ABOUT

Everything I see inspires me; it's my personal form of meditation. I don't always find the peace to sit still and listen mindfully to myself. Sometimes, I'll spot a beautiful wall on a house, and in that moment, inspiration strikes—I jump up, run to my studio, and pour all my thoughts onto a big canvas.

I'm inspired by things many people don't even notice. I live in Mallorca, Spain, where every house has a beautiful rustic texture. I find inspiration in the stains that appear when the plaster falls off—in the colors, shapes, and cracks in the walls. These are my greatest inspiration, my meditation. I see, I feel, I think, and then I paint intuitively.
